What Are the Qualities of the Ruler Described in Protocol 24 of the Learned Elders of Zion?

Sixbert SANGWA • July 26, 2024

The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion is a document that outlines a covert plan for global domination by an alleged group of Jewish leaders, often associated with the Illuminati, a secret organization aiming for global control. Although the document is stigmatized, its content appears to continue driving global trends towards a New World Order and the Antichrist reign. Protocol 24, the last of its 24 protocols, is particularly sinister as it plots a plan for their ruler, the Antichrist. As Christians, it is our duty to remain vigilant and discerning, aware of the spiritual warfare surrounding us. Ephesians 6:12 reminds us, "For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places." In this spirit, it is crucial to examine the sinister plans laid out in the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion, particularly Protocol 24, which outlines the "Qualities of the Ruler" envisioned by the leading group.

Confirming Dynastic Roots and Control Over Education

Protocol Element: Protocol 24 begins by emphasizing the method of confirming the dynastic roots of King David, asserting a divine right to rule. This idea is deeply rooted in maintaining a lineage that claims a connection to biblical royalty, but it is used here to justify a plan for global domination under a single ruler. The protocol states: "I pass now to the method of confirming the dynastic roots of King David to the last strata of the earth. This confirmation will first and foremost be included in that which to this day has rested the force of conservatism by our learned elders of the conduct of the affairs of the world, in the directing of the education of thought of all humanity."

This provision emphasizes the method of confirming the dynastic roots of King David, asserting a divine right to rule. This directive highlights the control over education and thought, an insidious method to shape and manipulate minds from a young age. By influencing education, this secret group aims to mold future leaders and society itself, ensuring that their ideologies are deeply ingrained and difficult to uproot.

Selective Induction and Secrecy

The protocol specifies that certain members of the seed of David will prepare future kings, not based on heritage but on their capacities. These selected individuals will be inducted into the "most secret mysteries of the politicat," ensuring they are well-versed in government schemes without revealing all the secrets. "The object of this mode of action is that all may know that government cannot be entrusted to those who have not been inducted into the secret places of its art," it states.

This method ensures that only a select few, those who are deemed capable and loyal, are entrusted with the reins of power. It echoes the strategy of many authoritarian regimes throughout history, where power is consolidated among a small, elite group. This approach is mirrored in modern secret societies and elite groups such as the Bilderberg Group, where influential figures are groomed and indoctrinated into a particular worldview. The idea is to control leaders through secret knowledge and hidden agendas, ensuring loyalty and alignment with their goals. This has been seen in how political and corporate leaders often come from exclusive clubs and fraternities, which groom them for future roles in governance. This approach has been seen in various forms, from monarchies where only the elite were educated in statecraft, to modern political systems where access to information and power is tightly controlled. Additionally, there is manipulation within the political sphere to appoint agents who are aligned with these hidden agendas, further consolidating their control.

Rigorous Standards and Ruthless Governance

According to the protocol, heirs who exhibit "frivolity, softness and other qualities that are the ruin of authority" will be set aside. Only those "unconditionally capable for firm, even if it be to cruelty, direct rule" will be allowed to govern. The protocol also mandates that kings who become incapacitated must hand over power to more capable hands.

This plan underscores the ruthless selection process, discarding those deemed weak or unsuitable. Historically, this is evident in monarchies and dictatorships where only the most resolute and ruthless individuals ascended to power. In modern times, this can be seen in the corporate world and politics, where leaders who exhibit strong, often ruthless characteristics are favored. The rise of authoritarian leaders worldwide, who govern with an iron fist, exemplifies this trend. They are often admired for their "strength" and "decisiveness," even if it means being cruel or oppressive. Additionally, there is manipulation within the political sphere to appoint agents who are aligned with these hidden agendas or individuals who are submissive to them. This manipulation includes rigging elections, spreading misinformation, and using financial and political influence to ensure their preferred candidates rise to power, further consolidating their control.

Secrecy and Absolute Power

A key element of Protocol 24 is the secrecy surrounding the king's plans. "The king's plan of action for the current moment, and all the more so for the future, will be unknown, even to those who are called his closest counselors." This secrecy is intended to create an aura of mystery and invincibility around the ruler, making it difficult for any opposition to arise. Secrecy and unpredictability are key to maintaining power, as outlined in this protocol. This tactic has been used by many despots to keep their subjects and advisors off balance. In today's context, this is seen in the way certain governments operate with high levels of secrecy and surveillance, keeping their true intentions hidden from both the public and their inner circles. Additionally, this group's controlling and secretly influencing global trends from behind the curtains with a high level of secrecy ensures their agenda remains hidden and undetected, further consolidating their power and influence worldwide.

Moral Integrity and Public Interaction

The protocol insists that the ruler must converse with the people in the marketplaces, ensuring a connection with the populace. It states:

> "That the people may know and love their king, it is indispensable for him to converse in the marketplaces with his people. This ensures the necessary clinching of the two forces which are now divided one from another by us by the terror. The king of the Jews must not be at the mercy of his passions, and especially of sensuality: on no side of his character must he give brute instincts power over his mind."

This approach is seen as a way to solidify their power by creating a perception of approachability and concern for the common people. Additionally, the ruler must be morally irreproachable, avoiding sensuality and other passions that could disorganize their mind. This emphasis on public interaction and moral integrity can be seen in various political ideologies that promote a "man of the people" image.
In the contemporary world, efforts to inaugurate new moral values that align with their desired ruler, the Antichrist, are evident in how populist leaders often engage directly with their supporters, using social media and public appearances to create a connection. They also strive to project an image of moral integrity, even if their private lives suggest otherwise. This duality can be seen in leaders who publicly advocate for family values while engaging in scandals behind the scenes, reflecting a manipulation of moral values to suit their hidden agendas.

Additionally, there is an ongoing erosion of Christian values, which serve as one force, to promote abominations aligned with their force. This strategy aims to gradually dismantle traditional moral frameworks and replace them with ideologies that are more conducive to their ultimate goal of control and domination. By undermining Christian principles, they hope to weaken resistance and pave the way for their desired ruler, the Antichrist, who will embody these new, morally ambiguous values.

The Supreme Lord's Exemplary Conduct

Finally, protocol 24 reemphasizes their ultimate goal to inaugurate their exemplary and irreproachable ruler (Antichrist) reigning in their desired kingdom (New World Order). They state: "The prop of humanity in the person of the supreme lord of all the world of the holy seed of David must sacrifice to his people all personal inclinations. Our supreme lord must be of an exemplary irreproachable."

The protocol insists that the supreme ruler must be morally exemplary, sacrificing personal inclinations for the sake of the people. However, this so-called moral exemplarity is twisted to support abominations that are contrary to biblical teachings. This aligns with the biblical principle that leaders should be above reproach, as seen in 1 Timothy 3:2, "Therefore an overseer must be above reproach, the husband of one wife, sober-minded, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach." Yet, their version of being "above reproach" involves upholding and promoting actions and ideologies that directly contradict these biblical principles.

In today's world, efforts to promote abominations such as LGBT rights, abortion, divorce and remarriage, and other practices seen as contrary to traditional Christian values, are preparing the way for their desired ruler. Daniel 9:27 warns, "And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week, and for half of the week he shall put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator." This verse indicates that the Antichrist will come on the wings of abomination, and current societal trends can be seen as paving the way for his arrival. Moreover, Jesus identifies Satan as the origin of all evil and deception (John 8:44), underscoring that the promotion of these abominations is ultimately rooted in Satan's influence and deception.

In today's world, leaders often attempt to project an image of personal sacrifice and dedication to public service, even if their actions contradict this portrayal. This dichotomy is evident in the lives of many politicians and public figures who espouse noble ideals while engaging in morally questionable activities. Thus, the ruler envisioned in Protocol 24 would exemplify and be above reproach in committing abominations, representing a perverse inversion of true moral leadership as described in the Bible. Ultimately, this ruler and those who follow him will rise to face God's judgment, as foretold in Revelation 20:11-15, where all will be judged according to their deeds.

Concluding Words

As Christians, we must reflect on this plan through the lens of Scripture. Proverbs 29:2 warns, "When the righteous increase, the people rejoice, but when the wicked rule, the people groan." The qualities outlined in Protocol 24 are those of a ruler who, despite appearing capable and connected to the people, ultimately seeks power through manipulation, secrecy, and ruthlessness. Moreover, this ruler is a rebel who seeks to destroy the people he leads astray, preventing them from accepting salvation.

In today's world, we must be cautious of leaders and ideologies that seek to control through such means. Jesus teaches us in Matthew 7:15-16, "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravenous wolves. You will recognize them by their fruits." The fruits of such leadership, as outlined in Protocol 24, are contrary to the fruits of the Holy Spirit (Galatians 5:22-23) and the teachings of Christ.
In conclusion, Protocol 24 of the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion outlines a chilling vision of leadership designed to manipulate and control. This aligns with Satan's longstanding desire to usurp God's throne, as revealed in Isaiah 14:13-14, "You said in your heart, 'I will ascend to the heavens; I will raise my throne above the stars of God... I will make myself like the Most High.'" As Christians, we must be vigilant and discerning, recognizing these tactics in historical and current contexts. We are standing on the verge of the end times, with the Antichrist ready to settle into his reign. This is prophesied in 2 Thessalonians 2:3-4. Therefore, as we see globalism efforts to bring the world under one global system [led by Antichrist], the Church must be ready for the rapture before the wrath of God is poured out on the desolator and his people, as described in 1 Thessalonians 4:16-17. Let us remain steadfast in our faith and commitment to truth and righteousness, as we eagerly await our blessed hope, the return of our Lord Jesus Christ.
